THE NEW CHAPEL

When the original plan for the Loyola buildings was drawn up, provision was made for a beautiful College Chapel. Even the most sanguine was aware that it would be some years before the chapel would be erected. At last, however, the dream has been realized.

Flanking the Administration Building, and linked to it by a closed-in cloister, now stands the College Chapel, a picture of which forms our frontispiece. We quote a description from the editorial column of this year's "Review": "A broad, steeply slanting copper roof between Flemish gables, with a lofty fleche, also copper-covered, near the western end where the incipient transepts cut across; windows, rectangular in the nave with buttresses between them, circular in the transepts and apse; a facade, well back from the street, that rises somewhat abruptly above the broad perron and challenges by its plain stretches of brickwork over the stone-framed doors and around the large gallery window; such is the exterior. The interior has a high vaulted ceiling, supported only by the side walls, and an abundance of light, pouring through the amber windows, give an air of spacious compactness that characterizes the whole arrangement. Ingenious contrivances for ventilation, heating and acoustics, are skillfully lost in the ribbed ceiling, and the "birnut" panelling that runs round the walls. The sanctuary floor, level with the tops of pews, is cut across by a wall in which is pierced a great arch framing the wide recess for the main altar. In front of this wall on either side of the recess are the side altars and, behind, sacristies with tribunes above; on the left side and harmoniously fitting in with the general scheme is an exceptionally fine pulpit. Six massive bronze candle-sticks stand on the main altar itself; in the center is the bronze, cylindrical conecapped tabernacle with a silver door".

On Sunday, April 2nd., 1933, the new Chapel was officially consecrated by His Excellency Archbishop Georges Gauthier. All those who officiated at the first Mass were graduates of Loyola. Father Frank Smith, S.J., the celebrant, is of the Class of '17. Father Thomas Bracken, deacon, was a classmate of Father Smith, and Father Gordon Carroll, sub-deacon, is a graduate of the Class of '22. Father Henry Bartley, C.S.S.R., who preached the evening sermon, is a graduate of the Class of '16. In the body of the church, both at the morning and evening services, were many Old Boys and present students of Loyola. All were loud in their praise, and were unanimous in believing that this new Temple to God at their Alma Mater, would serve to bind them more closely together and cement the old friendships of class and campus.

JOHN D. KING,
President of Loyola Alumni
 1930-1933

"THE REIGN OF KING"

When some young, ambitious graduate with a historical turn of mind sets to work to chronicle the ups and downs of the Loyola Alumni Association, he will probably date the history of the "ups" from the year 1930, when one John King first took over the reins of office.

John King will be described, in said anticipated volume, as a man of great foresight and understanding, enthusiasm and perseverance, possessing all those qualities of leadership that are requisite in a great man.

To use, contemporaries of John King, and witnesses to the present, the above eulogy certainly does not appear unmerited. Elected by an overwhelming majority in the general elections of 1930, John assumed the office of president, with perhaps greater enthusiasm and promise than any president before him. He laid his plans carefully and wisely, paying particular attention to the degree of progress that could be anticipated in one year, and not presuming more cooperation from the Association than could be expected in a year. It became evident at the close of his term that the Association had picked the right man, and this was so realized that a vote of acclamation started him off on his second term of office. John made even greater strides in this second term, and inaugurated what has since become the greatest and most popular assembly of Loyola students, the "Alumni Jug", as well as the Annual Golf-Day. Both of these events are now permanent fixtures on the programme of the Association's annual activities, and modestly trace their beginning to the second year of the Reign of King.

In the plan of things, John had required three years to complete his work of organization. The Association realized this fact, and in the general elections of 1932, John King was again re-elected by acclamation for his third successive term as president of the Loyola Alumni. He carried out his programme of the previous year, in even more successful tempo, and made a further step in the establishment of permanent annual activities with the inauguration of the first Loyola Alumni Christmas At Home, which was held at the Mount Royal Hotel on December 9th., 1932.

John King has been obliged to sacrifice a considerable portion of his time and energy to the activities of the Association, and pressure of business and other factors have forced him to decline further nomination to the executive. On May 31st, 1933, his three-year term of office finally culminated, and our tired and weary ex-president is now happy and contented to become, as before, one of the greatest and most enthusiastic supporters of the present regime. Many thanks to you, John!

— EVENTS OF THE YEAR —

There was a time when it was quite customary at College to take a couple of years off to celebrate the winning of an Inter-University Debating Championship, but it appears to be quite a habit about Loyola at present. This year, Loyola again took Dominion honours in this field of activity, for the second consecutive year. For the eighth time in eleven years Loyola has been returned sectional Champions and for the third time they have won Dominion honours.

Some reports from the Universities on hand show a favorable rating of Loyola men. Tim Slattery of the class of '31 was this year's winner of the Alexander Morris Exhibition for highest standing in Second Year Law at McGill. He was also awarded the Lieutenant-Governor's Silver Medal for Roman Law. He took first honours in Constitutional Law, Civil Procedure, Civil Law and Municipal Law. In First Year of the same faculty, Brendan O'Connor of the class of '32 took first honours in Criminal Law and Procedure, and second honours in other subjects. In Chemistry, Raymond Boyer received the degree of Ph. D. James Mullally of the Class of '29 graduated from the faculty of Law of McGill with honours. Napoleon Mayrand, a graduate of the Class of '26 was recently granted the degree of Doctor of Laws from the University of Montreal. On leaving Loyola, he studied law at the University of Montreal, where after a notable record, he was called to the Bar of the Province. He later did post-graduate work in Europe. Moore Bannon of the class of '27 was admitted to the Bar of the Province last January, climaxing a brilliant career at the University of Montreal. He was the winner of the Sir Lomer Gouin Scholarship, the Prix Mailot and the Prix Larue for the highest aggregate in all subjects throughout his law course. He was also the winner of the Montreal-Junior Bar Association prize for the highest number of points in examinations in Commercial Law. He was also awarded the Prix Leduc and the Prix Jetto-Campbell in Civil and Criminal Law respectively.

Among the Alumni who have joined the lay-staff of the Faculty of Loyola are Dr Neil Feeney '23, professor of Biology, Paul C. Casey '24, professor of Fundamental Law, Emmet George '31, professor of First High, and Edward Sheridan '32, professor of Physics and Mechanics. Jack McCarthy '31, has been teaching at Regiopolis College, Kingston, Ontario, during the course of the past year.

The Reverend Fathers Gerald Britt, Edgar Feelev, George Foley and Michael Healy, all graduates of the Class of '29, were ordained on June 10th., 1933, and will all most likely be attached to the Diocese. The ordination of these four men raises the number of Loyola Alumni among the English-speaking secular clergy of this city to the number of nineteen. A dinner in honour of the four newly-ordained priests was held at the Queen's Hotel on June 14th., at which over fifty former classmates and friends were in attendance.

Paul Haynes of the Class of '30, had brilliant season with Montreal Maroons, and was rated by Lester Patrick as the best of the first-year N.H.L. players. Paul was close to the top of the scoring list when the season closed, and was justly popular for his clean and generous play. He is a partner in the firm of Paul Haynes & Co., sporting goods, formerly located near the Forum, but is now more centrally located on McGill College Avenue, in the Confederation Building.

To the following members of the Alumni Association, who have this year joined the ranks of the Benedicts, the ALUMNUS welcomes the opportunity of offering its congratulations: Jean Casgrain '23, to Miss Jeanne Beaulieu; Lonsdale Holland '25, to Miss Evelyn Stanford; Beaudoin Handfield '26, to Miss Florence Barron Watson; Donald Robertson '28, to Miss Irene Weir; John Sheridan '28, to Mary Angelie Roy; Rudolph Timmins '29, to Miss Helen Gertrude Tynan; Walter Stanford '29, to Miss Geraldine O'Loughlin; and Harold Quinlan '30, to Miss Marion Weir.

THE NEW EXECUTIVE

The annual general meeting of the Loyola Alumni, held at the College on the evening of May 31st, 1933, was attended by approximately seventy members of the Association. The purpose of this meeting was to elect officers for the coming year.

John King, the retiring president, was in the chair, and after reading his report covering the activities of the year called for nominations for the position of president. The following was the result of the elections: President—Dr J. P. Brannen; Vice-President—George Daly; Secretary—Kenneth J. McArdle; Treasurer—Joseph Beaubien; Councillors—Paul Haynes, Walter E. Elliott, Paul C. Casey, John C. Whitelaw, Frank J. Shaughnessy, Jr., and John O'Brien. The following councillors elected last year for a term of two years, and remaining on the council for the coming year are Rev. H. P. Phelan, S.J., Norman Smith, Tim Slattery and Edward Sheridan.

"THE ALUMNI JUG"

On Wednesday, April 26th, 1933, the second annual Alumni Jug, which took the form of a stag dinner and entertainment, was held at the Windsor Hotel, Montreal. Over one hundred members of the Alumni Association, answering the summons, were present in Jug, where Lt-Col H. J. Trihey, and Reverend Father Quirk acted as prefects.

Despite the fact that examinations were underway in a number of Universities which prevented the presence of some who otherwise would not have failed to appear, the attendance was very gratifying, and next year the Executive promise that this fact will be taken into consideration, and a more convenient date chosen.

The guest speaker of the evening was Rev. Father Quirk, who came down from Kingston, Ontario, in order to address those in Jug, and spoke interestingly of the early days at Loyola, when Jug first came into being. Other guests at the head-table were Lt-Col. H. J. Trihey, Father McMahon, Father Chabot, Dr. Brannen and Dr. Rogers. In the absence of Mr. John King, president of the Association, Dr. Brannen opened the evening's proceedings by introducing the Chairman, Lt-Col. Trihey. The second annual presentation of "Alumni Daze" was given under the direction of Bashford Browne, and the cast included Ethelbert Browne, Dr. Roger McMahon, Dick Keyes, Paul Bray, Walter Power, Bill Smallhorn, Paul Demers and Bill McVey.

The following committee was in charge of the 1933 Jug: General Chairman—John C. Whitelaw; Entertainment—H. Bashford Browne; Tickets—William Tigh; Publicity—Walter E. Elliott; Reception—D. Archie Macdonald; and Music—Emmet George.

THE ALUMNI "AT HOME"

Something new in the activities of the Alumni Association was inaugurated this year, with the presentation of the First Annual Alumni "At Home", which was held in the Ballroom of the Mount Royal Hotel, on Friday evening, December 9th., 1932.

It had always been the intention of the Association to establish this as an annual function, but it was not until this year that it was finally realized. The committee named from the Alumni executive included John D. King, Dr. J. P. Brannen, and Walter E. Elliott, although the greater amount of work in the preliminary arrangements was carried out by a committee of active Catholic ladies of this city under the chairmanship of Mrs. J. P. Brannen, wife of Dr. J. P. Brannen, who was then vice-president of the Association, and who now holds the position of president.

There were approximately 140 couples in attendance. Music for the occasion was supplied by the orchestra of Maurice "Rusty" Davis, a former Loyola student, and an active supporter of the Alumni body.

— OBITUARY —

We regret to announce the death of Desmond Mulvena of the Class of '26, who died at Ste. Agathe, Que., during the course of the past month. Des had studied law at McGill and at the University of Montreal, and following his admission to the Bar of the Province of Quebec, he continued his studies in France. It was while at Dijon, France, that Des took seriously ill, necessitating his return to this country.

The sudden death of Pilot Officer Bob Rolph of the Class of '33, came as a shock to his many friends of Loyola. Bob completed his High School course at Loyola, after which he spent a few months in Montreal learning to fly at the Montreal Light Aeroplane Club. He then left for Camp Borden to join the Royal Canadian Air Force, and later was sent to the Royal Air Force College at Cramwell, England, where he assumed the rank of Flight Cadet Under-Officer. On his graduation from the R. A. F. he was presented with the Sword of Honour awarded each year to the best all-round cadet. Bob was instantly killed on Tuesday, February 28th., 1933, at Tangmere, Sussex, England in an aeroplane collision.

The Jesuit Order in Canada lost a promising member of its community with the passing of the late Rev. William A. McTague, S.J., who died at Windsor, Ont., on May 17th., 1933. Father McTague had been ordained priest for but three years at the time of his death, and will be remembered by some former students of Loyola as professor of Third Year High during the years 1926-27.

Many of the Old Boys heard with deep regret the death of Lt-Col. G. Simms, who had held the position of assistant-bursar at Loyola during the course of the past few years. "The Colonel", as he was known about Loyola, died suddenly at St. Mary's Hospital on New Year's Eve.

Our condolences are extended to Adrian Anglin of the Class of '27, and to John Anglin, at present a student at Loyola, on the death of their father, the late Chief Justice Anglin of the Supreme Court of Canada. Also to Horace Perodeau of the class of '18, on the death of his father, the Hon. N. Perodeau; to Harry Hemens of the Class of '32 on the death of his sister; and to John McConomy of the class of '27 on the death of his mother.

"PERSONALS"

Your Editor has decided to make a slight change in this section of the Alumnus. Whereas in the past it was in the nature of a Directory—often misleading we admit—we are now going to print only the names of those whom we could trace, along with their occupations and any little news we were able to gather. In this way we hope to make this section of the Alumnus more interesting. The function formerly filled by the Directory will be replaced by a list of the names and addresses of the Old Boys which will be kept on file by your Association and revised as changes occur. This latter plan will require the co-operation of all and plans are now under way to put it into effect.

It would be too much to hope that all the information contained below is correct and undoubtedly we are guilty of great sins of omission and commission; for these we ask your indulgence. Only those who have worked on the Alumnus can properly appreciate the time required and the difficulties met with in gathering what news we have to offer. We owe a debt of thanks to those who have helped us in compiling this section.

CONCRETE

gives wide Engineering and Architectural Scope

This modern all-Canadian material is adaptable to an unusually wide range of construction undertakings. Buildings, grain elevators, dams, power houses, bridges, subways, paving, are among its many leading uses. Concrete is permanent and fire-safe and keeps work in Canada.

WHEN you come back to Montreal to renew those happy college associations, you will find at the Mount Royal Hotel comfort, rest and refreshment.

A quiet but efficient service meets your every need and creates a feeling of general well-being.

A wide variety of restaurant services caters to the inner man and Table d'Hôte meals are a special feature.

A moderate price Coffee Shoppe is also much in vogue, both with our own guests and Montrealers in general.

Tea, Dinner and Supper Dances are held daily and here you may entertain your friends amidst the most charming surroundings.
